

Resident survey to aid an architectural program

The municipality of Kirkkonummi was planning their own architectural policy program. To map out the residents' experiences and preferences, a research was commissioned from Mapita.

The residents were asked about their environmental experiences, interesting observations and the atmosphere of the places. They also gave their ideas for the future of the municipality.

According to the residents, Kirkkonummi should have beautiful and unique architecture, which would blend in and reflect the strengths of the area. Small house is the preferred type of residence. The residents suggested improvements for the area of Masala, for transit connections and data communications, among others.

“It is important to have a good place for outing near the center of the municipality.”

“The gorge of Kauhala is spectacular. More information should be available about this place, so that people would find it.”
